Mid-Winter Hair Care Steals, Giveaways And A Special Fundraiser

By Allison Warenik-Queenan

Don't feel blue about having major knit hat head in the midst of the most brutal winter on record for New York City. There's no better pick me up than treating yourself to a little pampering. And I have all of the info you need for super hair freebies and discounts.

First off, for you curly haired girls, CURLS hair care products is offering a special giveaway to Beauty News readers. Their fun products are made from organic ingredients, contain no animal products and are used by celebrities like Halle Berry and Zoe Saldana. Three readers will get a set of four products, focusing on CURLS four-step process of curly hair care- cleansing, conditioning, moisturizing and styling: CURLS Curlicious Cleaning Cream, CURLS Coconut Sublime Conditioner, CURLS Quenched Curls Moisturizer and CURLS Curl Gel-les'c (pronounced jealousy).

Here is what you do. First fan BeautyNews on Facebook. Then send your name, address, phone number and Facebook ID to contact@beautynewsnyc.com by Wednesday, February 2nd. Three winners will be chosen at random.
